

Laura Kelly Designs & Licensing 'Paper Faces' Now Cover Baucom Elementary's Halls, Handbooks and Directories

Apex, NC (Nov. 16, 2009) Artist Laura Kelly has generously allowed her nationally recognized Paper Faces to be used by Baucom Elementary in Apex. These bright, cheerful faces now cover the school's handbooks and directories, as well as different areas of the building.

Kelly recently hand painted a mural for Baucom Elementary's entryway. Debbie Bergeron, who has worked at the school for 22 years, says, "It's the one thing that when you enter the building, you stop and say, 'Wow!' It makes you feel welcome!"

Baucom’s counselor, Carolyn Sink, is so excited about the “Baucom Buddies” mural she has requested that Kelly create six posters featuring the images for the school’s new Positive Behavior Support (PBS) program. The posters will feature the motto, "I am a Baucom buddy. I am kind, I am respectful. I am responsible."

“My first job out of college in 1991 was a third grade teacher at Baucom,” says Kelly, whose younger son also attends Baucom. “To still be a part of this magnificent school and have the opportunity to be a part of the Baucom family as a parent is such a gift. The staff, the families and the community work together in ways that amaze me. I am proud to still be a Baucom Buddy!”

Kelly’s stationery designs are now available at her new online stationery store, located at <http://shop.lkstationery.com/catalog>. You can also become a fan of Laura Kelly Designs & Licensing on Facebook and link up to Laura on LinkedIn at the following URLs:
